Darryl B. Bowdre
Senior Pastor

As always I am thankful to God that when I am away from you I have an assistant like Derren Smith. He has been with us almost two years now and has become a valuable members of our team. He, along with our deacons, Brothers Prentice Butler and Rufus Thompson are great young men with servant's hearts. They are a blessing to SouthCentral and a blessing to your pastor. We need to honor them, though they are all humble men, yet they are mighty men! Pray for them and their families and for their developing leadership.

I cannot tell you in words how much your support of the Birthday Challenge and the Re-Purpose Project is helping to improve things around our facility. More changes are on the horizon and it is going to take more of us doing our part to see this entire project through. It was our hope to have things totally completed by June, but as with most construction projects, there have been delays that were not anticipated. Still, we plan to see things completed before the end of the summer. A special thanks goes to those who have helped out by loaning the project your skills and talents. In addition to getting the job done, it also was time well spent in fellowship. It is a teaching opportunity of the value of teamwork and unity. I know those who have lent a helping hand or two surely take pride in the fruits of your labors. The foyers and entrance ways are taking shape. I am told by those in charge that "You ain't seen nothing yet!" I'm impressed and excited and I hope more of you will get involved and become excited as well. If you have not given your age in dollars, plan to do so as soon as possible. Those who have made pledges to the project are doing so—and I know there are more of us who can commit.

Change is good, especially if it is for the good of the organization. Besides, it as organism is alive, then change is constant. (I'm just gonna put that right here and leave it. I only ask that you remember it and recall it in the spirit of Christ when other changes begin to take place at SouthCentral.)

Have you brought someone to church with you lately? Our services are always sprinkled with a great group of visitors. It's part of The Church of Christ at SouthCentral DNA. "We love people." Let's all continue to share our church with our family, friends, co-workers and associates. We welcome our newest members: Betty Murphy placed membership with us on April 24th and Carol Fields placed membership on May 1st. Let's acquaint our selves with these ladies and their families as they work themselves into our family. It can only be done effectively by older members and new ones working together to establish fellowship and commonality.

During the month of June we will break from our Wednesday night schedule. This will give teachers and students alike a break and rest. We will resume midweek class on July 6 just before the lick-off of Vacation Bible School July 11-13th. Not everything will stop during June.

We will use some of the time to meet and do some well needed planning for the near and distant future. . . Change is good, especially if it is for the good of the organization. Besides, if an organism is alive, then change is constant. (I'm just gonna put that right here and leave it again. I only ask that you remember and recall it in the spirit of Christ when other changes begin to take place at SouthCentral.)
